

INHERITANCE

HOW TO HOST A SUCCESSFUL INHERITANCE EVENT

Event Suggestions

Transform your store into the medieval land of Alagaësia

Wear Costumes!

- Ask customers to come dressed in medieval costume or in their best interpretation of the main characters in Eragon, Eldest and Brisingsr: Brom, Murtagh, Arya, or even Saphira!
- Encourage store staff to wear authentic medieval costume (your local costume shop or secondhand clothing store might be helpful here), capes, or dark clothing. Contact your local theater group for help with costumes.

Create Atmosphere!

- The cover of Inheritance is green and the dragon featured on it is green. Use green as a theme in any decorations or props you may use around the store.
- Play traditional medieval music on store's speaker system or a portable stereo; some of Christopher Paolini's favorite music that might set the right mood is Alma Del Sur or any traditional music from the Andes.
- Play excerpts from the Inheritance cycle audio books over the store's speaker system or portable stereo.
- Dim the lights, use black lightbulbs, or purple cellophane over lightbulbs to achieve a dark and dramatic atmosphere.
- Velvet and candles evoke the feeling of medieval castles . . . use them for dramatic effect, but we don't suggest lighting the candles!

Serve Refreshments!

- Serve Dragon Egg Punch—the egg that hatched Saphira in Eragon is blue, the dragon egg in Eldest is red. Serve any type of nonalcoholic red or blue punch and label it "Dragon Egg Punch."

Offer entertainment

Organize Dramatic Readings!

- Invite a local drama group (from your community theater or a nearby junior high or high school) to do a dramatic reading or re-enact a scene from Brisingsr, Eldest or Eragon.
- Enlist enthusiastic members of your staff to perform a dramatic reading from Brisingsr, Eldest or Eragon—be sure they wear their medieval costumes.
- Give Christopher’s fans the opportunity to share their passion for the books of the Inheritance cycle with others—offer “open mic” time for fans to read a brief favorite passage or share a story about their experience reading Eragon, Eldest or Brisingsr.

Hold a Costume Contest!

- Since you’ve asked customers and staff to come to the event in costume, consider organizing a costume contest or medieval fashion show. Appoint one staff member “emcee” and “bestower of prizes.” Ask interested customers and staff members to parade across the front of your event space. If you want to have a contest, use the old favorite “applause-o-meter” to determine the first, second, and third place winners. Consider offering small prizes such as bookmarks or coupons to the winners.

Hold a Trivia and Translation Contest!

- Using the trivia quiz and ancient language quiz included in this kit test fans’ knowledge of the Inheritance cycle. Consider offering small prizes such as bookmarks or coupons to customers who answer questions correctly.

Hand Out Giveaways!

- Use the templates in this kit to create tattoo sheets and t-shirt iron-ons for attendees.

Get the Word Out

As a bookseller you know that the key to a successful event is good promotion. We hope that the materials and suggestions we’ve provided will make promoting this event easier for you. And remember, the sooner you commit to having an event, the longer you’ll have to promote it.

Local Media

- Notify your local media outlets about your event, particularly newspapers who will list it in the calendar section.

Store Newsletters and Calendars

- Be sure to list the event in your store’s newsletters and calendars.
