

CAMPAIGN DETAILS

The Teen Book Video Awards is a competition that challenges student filmmakers to create 90-second video trailers based on 16 children's and young adult novels published by Random House Australia.

There is a total cash prize pool of $1,000 for the winning entry, plus $1000 worth of books for the winner's nominated school.

The aims of the Teen Book Video Awards are as follows:

- to showcase authors and promote greater readership by capturing the imagination of high school students through the powerful medium of film
- to showcase young Australian student filmmakers, giving them valuable commercial experience and publicity, as well as rewarding them financially for their work.

The winner will be chosen by an expert judging panel .

A huge marketing campaign will see the trailers play across multiple digital spaces and in selected bookstores.

Key timing:

- April 18 – competition announced and landing page goes live
- 30 September – entries close

Entry

- High-school students from years 7–12
- Students may enter as individuals or a group
- Students must submit a 90-second book trailer best representing the book they have chosen

BOOKS INCLUDED

Darkwater by Georgia Blain

Voyages of the Flying Dragon 1: Quillblade by Ben Chandler

Wolfborn by Sue Bursztynski

The Iron Witch by Karen Mahoney

Burn Bright by Marianne de Pierres

Thyla by Kate Gordon

Pig Boy by J.C. Burke

The Witch Hunter Chronicles 1: The Scourge of Jericho by Stuart Daly

To Die For by Mark Svendsen

The Ivory Rose by Belinda Murrell

Where She Went by Gayle Forman

Laws of Magic 6: Hour of Need by Michael Pryor

Dangerously Placed by Nansi Kunze

My Life and Other Stuff I Made Up by Tristan Bancks and Gus Gordon

Votive by Karen Brooks

Maximum Ride: Angel by James Patterson

CONTACT DETAILS

Random House Australia welcomes any questions you may have. For further information, please contact Sarana Behan, Children's Marketing Strategist at sbehan@randomhouse.com.au